CHICAGO, ILL., Sept. 28 .- Capt. W. P. Black and the other attorneys for the seven condemned anarchists, to-day filed affidavits in the criminal court to support their motion for a new tr'al of the celebrated case The affidavits recite the usus! pies that the verdict is not supported by the evidence, and also urges that the counsel for the state employed a form of argument which was calculated to prejadice the jury. The chief point urged, however, is the story telegraphed from Indianapolis shortly after the conclusion of the trial to the effect that a stranger entered a drinking ssloon in that city, one or two days before the Haymarket massacre, and exhibited a satchel, intimating that a slaughter would occur in Chicago in a few days. The theory of the defense is that this mysterious stranger had a quantity of dynamite bombs, and that he is the person who, in all likelihood, threw the bomb into the ranks of the police. The manner in which the jury was summoned, before whom the defendants were tried, is also objected to.

Speaking briefly about the pending labor troubles the stranger closed with the remark that the saloonkeeper would shortly hear of trouble in Chicago. Pointing to his satchel, he con-tinued: "I have got something in here that will work. You will hear of it soon."

Shortly following this episode the news of the Haymarket tragedy reached Deluse. The deponent appeals to a certain Oscar Spoith as a witness to this strange conversation, and this individual follows in an affidavit as to the truth of the statement. Jacob L. nomination of J. T. Fieming of this city for congress, by the Republican convention, was somewhat of a surprise here. Fleming is recognized as much the ablest leader and organizer the party has in the county, and in the days of Republicanism he was as absolute a boss and dictator as Mahone ever was in Virginia. Since the Democrats gained the ascendancy in the county, however, he has eschewed politics and has lived a part of the time in Callahan county, where his ranch is located.
It is learned after the nomination that he much desired the empty honor, and had quietly but effectively worked up his canvass so there was practically no opposition to him in the convention.

A large pine tree had been blown down and they were playing around in a hole made by the roots of the tree being torn up. The evening passed and at night the children were missed. The parents instituted a search and soon found them lying near the roots of the fallen tree. The young ones were dead and the eldest was in a dying condition. Upon investigation it was found that the children had all been bitten by a snake which had made its den under the roots of the tree. The bodies were terribiy swollen and looked as if they had been bitten in several different places. The eldest child died during the night and the three little innocents were buried together.

The St. Louis & San Francisco is now engaged in doing some very heavy tun-neling work in the Indian Territory which will probably take several months. It is said that when this part of the road is completed an immense force will be put on the balance of the distance, and the work pushed to Paris. When that is done a definite proposition will be made to McKinney and Fort Worth. A gentleman who conversed with 'Frisco officials in St. Louis makes this statement.

For a day or two current talk in railroad circles has been to the effect that the bondholders of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas were anxious to withdraw from the Gould or Missouri Pacific system, and that at a meeting soon to be held the ef-fort would be made and strenuously insisted on by a number of the scurity holders. The Missouri, Kansas & Texas is the road from Hannibal to Denison and the reason assigned by those interested for wanting to withdraw from the system is that the road has been milked to benefit the Missouri Pacific. The Missouri Pacific is the road from St. Louis to Kansas City with a number of branches, one of which is the road from Whitesboro to Gainesville and Fort Worth to Laredo. Should the Missouri, Kansas & Texas succeed in withdrawing, it will leave only the St.
